HOME AND SCHOOL COMMUNICATION AND SUPPORT

Teacher E-Mail Addresses: All teachers at this school have been issued e-mail addresses.

The following narrative about how this school promotes and supports parental involvement was submitted by this school.

King Philip Middle School is committed to supporting our families within the community to ensure that each child's academic, social and emotional needs are met. Our home-school liaison provides outreach and support to parents throughout the year. Teachers maintain regular contact with parents via phone, email and conferences. A school newsletter is published and sent home monthly, as well as posted online. Several teachers have web pages where homework, upcoming events and information regarding team activities is displayed. All of our incoming sixth grade parents are welcomed into the building via a "Sixth Grade Meet & Greet" program in August. King Philip regularly recruits parents and community volunteers to serve as mentors and tutors, both during the school day and at our after school study center. We have a very involved Parent Teacher Organization which has helped us to support community building events, such as a faculty basketball game and school book fair to celebrate our literacy initiative. In addition, several educational evening programs are held for parents throughout the year. Some topics include: understanding the middle school learner and alcohol, tobacco and drug awareness.

EFFORTS TO REDUCE RACIAL, ETHNIC, AND ECONOMIC ISOLATION

Below is the description submitted by this school of how it provides educational opportunities for its students to interact with students and teachers from diverse racial, ethnic, and economic backgrounds.

Efforts at KPM have been ongoing throughout the 2007-08 school year. Specifically, the following initiatives and ongoing programs are aimed at fostering inclusion and promoting acceptance: • Anti Defamation League (ADL) World of Difference—continued implementation of diversity lessons throughout the year, incorporated into the Social Studies curriculum. These lessons promote tolerance and acceptance of individual differences • Home to School Liaison fosters parent/student integration to KP school community for new and at-risk students • Continuation of the Equity and Excellence Committee to address the achievement gap at KP • PTO volunteer program to assist at-risk students' families with transportation to school events to promote greater participation from families • Sisterhood/Brotherhood collaboration with The Bridge Family Counseling Center • Students led several school wide drives for contributions (food, clothing, finances) to assist natural disaster victims and multiple nonprofit organizations that have a direct impact on KP families. In addition, several teams participated in community service projects throughout the year, including Curechiefs for Cancer and Pennies for Peace. Students also volunteered at local soup kitchens and shelters • Interdisciplinary units related to students' ethnic heritage/backgrounds culminating in evening presentations by 7th graders for parents/community members • Peer tutors/buddies for special needs students; high school students as tutors for students after school • Unified Sports Program, joining regular and special needs students at both King Philip and Sedgwick Middle Schools, competed against other teams in the state. The team organization plan at King Philip Middle School is designed to integrate students coming to the school from six different West Hartford feeder elementary schools and from other communities. By doing so, KP students are exposed to a cross section of the West Hartford community that is approximately twenty-two percent minority. Further, the English as A Second Language (ESOL) students are fully integrated onto teams at each grade level along with more than twenty multi-handicapped, special needs students.

SCHOOL IMPROVEMENT PLANS AND ACTIVITIES

The following narrative was submitted by this school.

King Philip Middle School is in its fourth year of a research-based Professional Learning Community (PLC) Initiative. We are committed to working collaboratively towards continuous school improvement. The KPM faculty is dedicated to the school goals of embedding literacy strategies into all areas, study skills integration, infusion of technology, and using the UBD planning tool to improve instruction and student learning. School goals are monitored on a regular basis via the School Improvement Committee, which is comprised of parents, teachers and administrators. KPM enhances student learning through implementation of cornerstone assessments in all curricular areas through the use of professional development programs facilitated by department supervisors and teachers during the school year. Interdisciplinary data teams meet weekly to analyze student work through the use of protocols. Data obtained is used to both inform and improve instruction. We utilize the co-taught model in all grade levels, focusing on the infusion of regular and special education learning strategies in daily classroom instruction. The following program enhancements are ongoing: • Pilot program to improve eighth grade physical science instruction involving lab simulations and corresponding instruction. • Staff development programs during CSI (Curriculum and Staff Improvement) time to support student academic achievement Guaranteed research experience across all grade levels, training for holistic scoring of CMT writing prompt and reading comprehension answers, and integration of technology into classroom instruction. • Small group learning labs during each school day and after school support for supervised guided practice. • Various support groups for at risk students, to include a mentor/tutor program, an after school Study Center and CMT prep sessions for students who have not mastered objectives. • Team level parent conferences and team-developed Intervention Plans for students at risk for retention.

SUPPLEMENTAL SCHOOL INFORMATION

The space below was optionally used by this school to describe aspects of the school not presented elsewhere in the profile.

King Philip is proud of its efforts to function as a professional learning community with a focus on students' academic, social and emotional well-being. Some examples include: • Students recognized on "Wall of Fame" for demonstrating positive character traits in our "Character Counts at KP!" program. • Students participated in performance music concerts for orchestra, band, jazz band, and choir. Three student drama/talent show productions were performed involving a cross-section of students. • Efforts made to engage the entire community through various school and PTO family activities. • Gifts of Music support low-income students' participation in music performance groups. • Special programs at KPM that enhanced the school: • Professional Learning Community initiative for teacher collaboration on the development of cornerstone assessments and rubrics in all disciplines. • An active, involved PTO and School Improvement Council. • A school site based strategic plan and annual goal-setting by the staff focus the KP mission. • Quest Program, an enrichment program for the gifted and talented students. • Inclusive programs for special needs students which enrich the school experience for all students. • Developmental math classes designed to address students' remedial math needs and increase student achievement on CMTs. • Trained Peer Mediators to address resolution of student conflicts. • Student Assistance Team identifies and assists students experiencing academic and/or social difficulties.
